Curriculum development grant: Environmental Studies

SLA is pleased to announce that it will award a maximum of 3 grants for the summer of 2010 for course development in Environment Studies. Each award will be for $2000. These grants are intended to provide faculty with the opportunity to develop a EVST core-curriculum course or an elective that would be housed in their own departments. Priority will be given to proposals to teach a core course.

In order to apply for the grant, faculty should submit a 1-2 page description of the course they will develop. They must agree to teach the course at least once every two years and include a letter from their chair that supports this agreement. By the end of the summer, they must produce a SACS-compliant syllabus and a schedule of when they would like to teach the class.

Please send all proposals electronically to Associate Dean Kevin Gotham at kgotham@tulane.edu by April 15, 2010. He will be happy to answer any questions you have about this initiative.
