Monday, April 6
12:30-1:30pm in JBJ 504

"The Perfect Complement for Dengue"

Berlin Londono, PhD
Department of Tropical Medicine

A review of the current advances in understanding the role of human complement in mosquito midgut and dengue pathogen transmission will be discussed.

---

Dr. Londono is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Dr. Tonya Colpitts' lab. She is currently studying the role of immunity against arthropod salivary proteins on disease severity and transmission.