Basic requirements for all programs are:
• The Windows operating system
• Microsoft Office Professional 2013 (for Windows)
• Internet Explorer

The following required machine specifications will meet your needs in the classroom and should be adequate throughout your tenure in the Freeman program. Note that in order to support specialized software required for the Freeman School course curriculum, the Windows operating system will be required. Apple Macintosh computers running the Macintosh operating system and computers running the Linux or similar operating systems will not be able to run some of the required programs. See the document "About the Macintosh" for more information. The Technology Connection can assist in making an Apple Computer run the Window operating system.
• Notebook computer with Intel Pentium-class or compatible CPU (Intel, AMD)
• Microsoft Windows 8, Windows 7, (Windows Server platforms are not allowed and Windows RT is incapable of running required applications)(Windows XP is not supported)
• Microsoft Office Professional 2013 (for Windows)

Through Microsoft’s Office 365 Student Advantage program Tulane students may now download the latest version of Office for installation to personally owned devices at no charge
• Microsoft Internet Explorer web browser
• Wired or wireless Ethernet adapter (and station cable, if wired)
• Anti-virus software (Trend Micro OfficeScan is available through Tulane’s license)

• This flyer has Technology Connection’s recommended computer configurations, which have been reviewed by the School of Business Technology Department. Stop by Technology Connection in the Lavin-Bernick Center to discuss your order or see a demo machine.
• The most common computers on campus are Apple and Dell models. These are the brands Technology Services is certified to repair. If you have a preference for another computer manufacturer, please note that support will be limited on Tulane’s campus.
• Security cables and Ethernet cables are recommended.
• Computers purchased through Technology Connection are exempt from diagnostic fees.
