

The Exploring Joara Foundation

July News from the Exploring Joara Foundation

July 15, 2010

Presentation on the Iceman "Ötzi"
at the Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Exploring Joara Foundation

Dr. Edward Hill, a neurologist from Winston-Salem, North Carolina, will be the featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Exploring Joara Foundation on Wednesday, July 21 at 7:00 PM in Leviton Auditorium on the campus of Western Piedmont Community College in Morganton.

His program is entitled "The Iceman Cometh." Dr. Hill was a member of the research team from Wake Forest University that took part in the studies on Ötzi, the 5,300 year old well-preserved, natural mummy discovered in the Alps in 1991. Dr. Hill will provide an insider's perspective on this famous and fascinating discovery. (See the email link) <http://www.crystalinks.com/oetzi.html>

A reception for Exploring Joara members will precede the annual meeting at 5:30 PM in the lobby of Hildebran Hall. The annual meeting and Dr. Hill's talk will begin at 7:00 PM in Leviton Auditorium.

For directions to Western Piedmont, go to <http://www.wpcc.edu>. For more information, call 828-439-2463 or email exploringjoara@att.net.